A Law Firm Rooted in the Community

To many, Stratton Faxon is a household name in Connecticut. The firm's attorneys are known by jurors, judges and people in the community as solid citizens, who donate hundreds of thousands of dollars each year to underwrite outreach efforts across the state. Stratton Faxon is also known by lawyers as the firm to go to with complex tort and catastrophic injury claims.

The most important person at Stratton Faxon, other than the client, is the referring attorney. The firm refuses to compete with referrers by advertising to the consumer—therefore, 100 percent of the firm's caseload is referred by lawyers based solely on word-of-mouth.

Every partner at Stratton Faxon has achieved multimillion-dollar verdicts and has a spotless ethics record. Through the firm's unique giving policy, a portion of every case fee is donated back to the community to support inner-city afterschool programs, public radio, legal aid, USA championship road races and advocacy organizations that support the civil justice system.

This year, the firm once again celebrates the selection of its entire staff of attorneys to the New England and Connecticut Super Lawyers® lists.
